PRACTICAL APPROACH TO TRANSITION

The Salvation Army offers compassionate ministry serving those individuals who find themselves in need of transition from life's circumstances, decisions and challenges. The Press ON! Shelter Program is a transition and accountability program that works to move men and women from homelessness into a stable, secure and productive lifestyle and situation.

It is a community supported and resourced program utilizing volunteers and community agencies to bring quality and knowledge to educate and encourage individuals into successful choices and support strategies.

Program participants are given guidelines and requirements to encourage their productivity and self-sufficiency. Nightly classes supply practical tool kits and resources to encourage independence.

Weekly case-management sessions and conferences support client success and provides motivation to accomplish individualized goals and objectives.
